PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Large Neapolitan "smith" Console Table In Inlaid Mahogany - Early 19th Century

2 800 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Mahogany

Length : 163

Height : 100

Description

An important Neapolitan "Smith" console table in mahogany veneer dating from the early 19th century, a refined example of Neoclassical cabinetmaking from southern Italy.The piece stands out not only for its extraordinary craftsmanship but also for its impressive dimensions, characteristics that give it a striking visual presence. The structure is crafted from fine mahogany, embellished with refined maple inlays that create an elegant color contrast and enhance the piece's architecture with great decorative balance.The finely inlaid front panel, with its undulating profile, blends harmoniously with the monumental carved legs, giving the console a majestic yet extremely elegant appearance. The large marble top adds further prestige and functionality, enhancing the piece's aristocratic

Dealer

Vassallo Antiques

Antiques Online

Tel : 3311593007

Mobile : +39 3311593007

Corso Vittorio Emanule III

Salerno 84096

character.Thanks to its generous proportions, this impressive console table is ideal for grand entryways, historic salons, or prestigious settings where it can become the absolute focal point of the space.A piece of great charm and collectible quality, embodying the elegance of early 19th-century Neapolitan craftsmanship. Preserved in good overall condition with a pleasant patina of age consistent with the period.Dimensions:Height: 100 cmLength: 163 cmDepth: 51 cm