Description

We are pleased to present this stunning 19th-century round side table made of Italian walnut. This exceptionally refined table features intricate wood inlay work, crafted from small pieces of various woods. The predominantly geometric decoration covers every part of the table, while the round top is adorned with an intricate checkerboard pattern. The top is supported by a turned central tripod column. Its compact size makes it perfect for creating a focal point in any room of the house: it can be placed in the living room, entryway, or bedroom. Wherever you decide to place it, it will inspire admiration and envy among all your guests. The table is in good condition, with minimal signs of wear consistent with its age. Underneath the tabletop is a label that tells its story: the inscription "ROLO

EMILIA" is still legible. This type of inlaid table from Italy is also called a "Rolo table" because the town of Rolo, in the Reggio Emilia region, became famous for its cabinetmakers who specialized in creating exquisitely crafted inlaid furniture. If you love Italian cabinetmaking, this table is a must-have piece for your home.
