Description

Interesting, surprisingly modern portrait of Mary Magdalene. Full face, beautiful eyes turned skyward, pink days, abundant curly hair. The saint's right hand rests on the fall of her hair, on her left shoulder. A gesture of modesty? Powerful neck, like the portrait as a whole. Very red, hemmed mouth. Quite sensual impression, tempered by the adoring gaze. A very fine halo appears around the head, on a black background. 'On the back, old canvas, with a few small marks. Very simple gilded wood frame, probably 20th century.
