Tuscan Wrought-iron Fireplace Mantelpieces - 18th Century

900 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : En l'etat

Material : Wrought iron

Width : 23

Height : 75

Depth : 47

Description

Tuscan Wrought Iron Fireplace Andels - 18th CenturyAn elegant pair of 18th-century Tuscan fireplace andels, made entirely of hand-forged wrought iron. These historic pieces represent a rare example of 18th-century blacksmithing, characterized by robust forms, simple decorations, and an extraordinary original patina.FeaturesPeriod: 18th century (circa 1700-1780)Provenance: TuscanyMaterial: Hand-forged wrought ironWorkmanship: Entirely handcrafted, with visible hammer marks and irregularities typical of ancient forgingDesign:Vertical posts with side pegs for supporting and adjusting the firewoodUpper section featuring an open circular cage, a rare and sought-after designFront legs with curved claws, a symbol of Tuscan traditionLong, stable rear arm

Dealer

Il Rigattiere di Martini
Antiques
Mobile : +393392392619

Via Aurelia nord 92
Grosseto 58100

for perfect support in the hearthConditionThe fire pokers feature an authentic patina of age, with natural oxidation and signs of use consistent with the period. Structurally sound and perfectly usable even today.Points of interestAuthentic 18th-century piece, not a reproductionIdeal for rustic settings, farmhouses, historic villas, or period renovationso o Perfect both as a functional element and as a decorative object