Description

Set of twelve patinated and partially vermeiled silver table nameplates with hunting decor, made by FABBRICA ARGENTERIA FIORENTINA di BARTOLINI BARTOLOZZI & C. S.A.S., Florence, circa 1960. Each subject represents a hunting or undergrowth animal, treated with precise, animated naturalism: pheasants, partridges, ducks, hares, squirrels, foxes, wild boars or even pointing dogs. The figures, finely chased and gilded with fine gold, stand out against bases featuring patinated silver stumps, creating a particularly decorative contrast. This set is part of the Florentine production of the post-war period, characterized by a marked taste for animal subjects and material effects, in a spirit that is both elegant and evocative of the world of hunting and the reception table.
