Description

Decorative composition: slightly curved front, panels inlaid with trompe-l'oeil cubes, herringbone friezes, light-colored fillets and contrasting frames. The decor evokes the Louis XV / Transition taste revisited in the 19th century, in a miniature and demonstrative version. Beautiful miniature architecture. The play of veneers creates a lively rhythm, between optical depth, alternating light and dark woods, and the curved lines of the façade. The cube marquetry adds a highly decorative graphic vibrancy, while the gilded bronzes lend relief and nervousness to the whole. Good overall condition, wear from use, scratches, minor rubbing, visible marks. Back features simple construction with exposed points and joints, gouge-thinned edge darkening consistent with a master's or school
