Description

Rare XVIIIe century period Comtoise clock in solid walnut and marquetry, featuring an elegant curved case typical of French regional production. The enameled dial with Roman numerals is surrounded by a large repoussé brass pediment richly decorated with floral and foliate motifs (19th century mechanism). The mechanical movement with weight and pendulum is signed "Louis Proven à Aumont", testimony to fine quality antique clockwork. The case offers a superb warm patina with molded panels and sober sculpted decorations. The whole retains its authentic charm with its antique fittings, balance wheel and weight. Dimensions: Height: 2.65 m Width: 50 cm prof: 40 cm Very nice decorative presence for this large antique comtoise, ideal in an interior with character, country house or
