PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

An Important Blue And White "kraak" Bowl - China, 17th Wanli Period

3 500 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 35,4cm

Height : 14,4cm

Description

An important blue and white "Kraak" porcelain bowl. The body is decorated with chrysanthemum cartouches, peaches, and scrolling foliage. The interior of the bowl features a central medallion painted with two birds among peonies.China, 17th centuryWanli period (1563-1620)Diameter: 35.4 cmHeight: 14.4 cmFor a comparable bowl of similar size, see :- Christie's, Amsterdam, European Noble and Private Collections, 14 December 2011, lot 438A star-shaped crack to the body, resulting in a small area of loss at the centre of the impact, which has been filled, cleaned, and stabilised. Minor chips and fritting, surface scratches and firing cracks, as well as some chips to the foot rim.Further information and photographs available upon request.

Dealer

Galerie Drake
Chinese Porcelain & Chinese Works of Art
Mobile : 0689483023

Paris 75011