Rouen Earthenware Dish - XVIIIe - Blue Cameo Carnation Décor

200 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Earthenware

Length : 27 cm

Width : 22 cm

Description

Rouen earthenware dish from the XVIIIe - blue cameo carnation decorRouen earthenware dish, dating from the XVIIIe century.This model features a delicate central decoration depicting a carnation, treated in blue cameo on a tin glaze background. This floral motif, both simple and elegant, is fully in keeping with the decorative repertoire of Rouen workshops of this period. This model features a delicate central decoration featuring a carnation, treated in blue monochrome on a stanniferous enamel ground.The soberly ornamented wing highlights the central subject and demonstrates a decorative balance characteristic of XVIIIe century production.Rouen earthenware, developed notably under the impetus of figures such as Edme Poterat, experienced a major boom

Dealer

Antiquités Dubouchage
Generalist
Tel : 0614100067
Mobile : 0612094302

1 rue Rancher
Nice 06000

between the XVIIe and XVIIIe centuries. Influenced by Italian and Oriental models, it is distinguished by the quality of its enamel and the finesse of its decorations.This dish is part of a mastered production, while at the same time being able to be considered a study piece of Rouen floral decorations, and an elegant display object, appreciated for its sobriety and refinement.Very good condition.Dimensions:Length: 27 cmWidth: 22 cmA charming piece, representative of the savoir-faire of Rouen's XVIIIe century workshops.