Description

Important 20th-century rocking chair with matching footrest, forming a set designed for resting and reading. The bentwood structure, resting on continuous glides, draws a fluid and elegant silhouette of traditional inspiration. The seat and backrest are crafted in beige upholstered leather with deep buttons, providing visual relief and great comfort. The light patina of the leather dialogues harmoniously with the varnished wood, reinforcing the warm, timeless character of the ensemble. The armrests are made of a soft, supple leather. The curved armrests and sloping backrest encourage a relaxed posture, while the independent footrest perfectly completes the functionality of this piece designed for prolonged use. A piece with a strong decorative presence, ideal for an office, library, living room or reading
