Description

Refined pair of bedside tables, veneered in solid walnut and inlaid with fruitwood. The tables feature truncated cone-shaped legs, typical of the period, and are equipped with a drawer and a mirrored door, both ergonomically designed for storage. Further refinement is provided by the inlays on the front, sides, and top, featuring geometric and plant motifs. This pair of bedside tables stands out for its great taste and elegance, adding a touch of class and antique style to any space. Their distinctive feature is also their moderate height, making them perfect even for modern beds. Tuscan manufacture from the Neoclassical-Louis XVI period, around
