Description

Collectible piece for connoisseurs and lovers of industrial and Space Age lighting. A veritable globe of Parisian street furniture, this characterful table lamp combines a chrome-plated metal tulip-style base, emblematic of the 1970s, with a holophane glass globe. The globe is remarkable for its intricate grid-and-stripe pattern of molded prismatic glass, typical of Paris's historic street fixtures. This textured glass is not only aesthetically pleasing; it is designed for optimal light diffraction, creating a soft yet sparkling ambience. A true sculpture of light, at the crossroads of industrial design and modernism. Some traces of age on the glass. Recently rewired.
