Description

Elegant pair of small side tables or sofa ends published by the French Maison et Jardin house, based on a design by Gilles Sermadiras in the 1970s. These tables feature a white lacquered bamboo tubular structure enhanced by gilded brass details, in a chic spirit blending modernism and neo-classical influence. The black top contrasts with the graphic finesse of the base and adds a highly decorative presence. Sermadiras' work here is distinguished by a sober, sophisticated line, typical of high-end French furniture of the 70s and 80s, in the spirit of the glamorous productions of the period. Very beautifully proportioned for use in: sofa ends, bedside tables, side tables, or decorative pedestal tables. Beautiful vintage condition with light patina of use consistent with age.
