Description

An elegant late 19th-century stained-glass panel, crafted from leaded glass tiles and featuring a central polychrome decoration in an allegorical and Neo-Renaissance style. The panel displays an elegant geometric composition, enhanced by decorative borders and a central figurative medallion in vibrant colors, which lends great charm and luminosity to any space.The artisanal leadwork and the slight irregularities in the glass attest to the authenticity and quality of the craftsmanship of the era. Ideal as an architectural decorative element, to be incorporated into doors, windows, wainscoting, or simply as a backlit ornamental panel.A piece with great visual impact, perfect for classic and eclectic settings.
