Description

Claire Bianchi (born 1963) Chant Choral Oil on canvas signed lower right, dated 2020 and titled on the back Dimension: 89 x 116 cm Biography from the artist's website: Claire Bianchi was born in Cherbourg in 1963. Trained as a graphic designer and illustrator at the Ecole Estienne in Paris, she settled in 1993 in Saint-Mammès, on the banks of the Seine and Loing rivers, where she now works, devoting herself entirely to oil painting. Her expressionist, gestural style of painting is inspired by her surroundings and her many travels, and is based on incessant observation of nature, a process of memory and retranscription imbued with the experienced feelings of color and light. Depth, surface and verticality gradually led her to expand her formats and question the creation of a pictorial surface
