

The "ecce Homo" Terracotta Sculpture Of The Grieving Christ, 18th-century Italy

2 500 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Terracotta

Length : 25

Width : 22

Height : 40

Description

A beautiful terracotta sculpture made in southern Italy in the first half of the 18th century.

The modeling of the body and the features of the drapery are excellent.

The modeling of the muscles and the tormented treatment of the drapery suggest an influence from Baroque or late Baroque sculpture, with a search for pathos typical of devotional sculpture in southern Italy.

The sculpture measures 40 cm high, 25 cm long, and 22 cm wide.
