

Pair Of Columns Made Of Rosewood And Green Of The Alps Marble

13 000 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Marble

Description

A pair of important decorative columns in carved rosewood, embellished with elegant inlays of Verde delle Alpi marble, made in the early decades of the 19th century and originating from central Italy. The columns feature refined sculptural work in the late Baroque style, with rich plant motifs, volutes, and fantastical figures skillfully carved in full relief. The slender structure is enhanced by the warm tones of the rosewood and the striking color contrast provided by the veined green marble, set at the center of the shaft. The compositional balance, the quality of the carving, and the refined decoration make this pair a fine example of Italian craftsmanship of the period, ideal as striking ornamental elements in classical settings, historic residences, or prestigious antique collections.
