

A Chinese Porcelain Famille Verte Bowl, Kangxi Period, 17th / 18th Century, Qing Dynasty

5 200 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 19.5 cm.

Height : 9 cm.

Description

A Chinese famille verte 'fishermen' bowl. Kangxi period (1662-1722). Bowl on high footrim with steep sides. Decorated with famille verte enamels with four cartouche panels on a ground of 'frog-spawn', flowerheads, leaves and butterflies. In the panels a figure in a boat, a fisherman with a net and fishing rod, in the other two panels some of the 'hundred antiquities'. The inner and outside rim decorated with geometric motifs alternated by floral cartouches, the interior centre with a large lotus flower surrounded by six lingzhi fungi. Marked on the base with a factory or shop mark in a double circle in underglaze blue. Height 9 cm, diameter 19.5 cm. Condition: Good condition with normal age-related signs of use: the top rim has no glaze so it appears to be slightly sanded, slight wear to enamels, minute nibbles to upper rim,

Dealer

Menken Works of Art

Art Asiatique

Tel : 00316-14916974

Herengracht 240

Amsterdam 1016BT

minor scratching and wear to glaze. No additional damage found under UV light. No signs of repairs. No cracks or chips. Worldwide registered and insured shipping. Inv. No: MW400