Description

Belgian-made Art Deco salon table circa 1920.This is a rare piece of furniture, a luminous table with its original electrical equipment, four Bakelite soquets and switch. The entire table has been completely restored.It has been repolished in the traditional way with a buffer, giving a very beautiful appearance to its flamed walnut veneer.The glass slab lining the top has been replaced identically, the old one having been cracked.It is a twelve-millimeter-thick slab of acid-etched glass with a rounded polished edge.It is held in place by a threaded rod and a solid brass ball.The top closes a hollow box that has retained its period patina and conceals the electrical equipment.This model is traditionally attributed to the "Maison De Coene Frères" in Kortrijk, Belgium.This handsome Art Deco piece
