Description

Fine-worked side table from France, circa 1830, in the Restoration style. The small table is made of walnut veneer on poplar and has solid walnut elements. The warm color of the wood and the beautiful grain give the piece of furniture an elegant, but not overloaded appearance. The table features a drawer and offers space for small items such as keys, letters, notebook or personal items. The slender legs and turned assembly in the lower section make it particularly decorative. This table has a drawer and provides space for small items such as keys, letters, notebooks or personal items. Thanks to its compact size, the side table can be used in a multitude of ways - next to a sofa or armchair, as a small bedside table, in the hallway or as a single piece in the living room. Dimensions: Width: 48.5 cm Depth: 34.5
