Description

Antique earrings designed with contrasts in mind, combining the organic softness of coral with the subtle sparkle of rose-cut diamonds.Each pendant is composed of a drop of natural coral in a pink hue known as "angel skin", offering a subtle shade between pink and peach, highly sought-after. Finely polished, it reveals slight variations in tone and internal nuances, signatures of its organic origin and guarantee of authenticity. This living material, both soft and luminous, delicately captures the light and lends the whole a warm, refined presence.These drops are suspended from a vertical motif set with two rose-cut diamonds whose felted sparkle contrasts with the polished surface of the coral. The setting in 585/°° gold (14 KT, coquille Saint Jacques hallmark) and 925/°° silver (swan hallmark), characteristic of jewelry from the XIXe century, highlights the brilliance of the stones while retaining finesse and lightness.The slender design emphasizes the natural movement of the jewel when worn: the eye is immediately drawn to the softness of the coral, while the diamonds punctuate its brilliance without ever dominating it. The metal, deliberately discreet, fades into the background in favor of a play of balance between material, light and color.The ensemble evokes the productions of the second half of the XIXe century, particularly under Napoleon III, when the combination of coral and diamond reflected a pronounced taste for elegant contrasts and airy compositions.An antique jewel with authentic charm, combining delicacy, movement and timelessness.Total diamond weight estimated for 0.10 caratGross weight: 5.58 gCondition: imperceptible micro-scratches on the metal, slight natural color nuances in the coral drops (see photos), natural inclusions in the diamonds not visible to the naked eye.Possibility of payment entirely at a distance via the site, or in 4 instalments by Paypal, on a maximum amount of EUR2,000.We remain at your disposal for any further information concerning an alternative method of payment or any balance for purchases above this amount.Are you a professional?
