

Fragment Of A Large Corinthian Capital, Antique Roman Marble, Large Acanthus Leaf

1 500 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : En l'etat

Material : Marble

Length : 27

Width : 16

Description

Two large acanthus leaves rolled at the end into intersecting scrolls to form the angle of the capital, encircling under the arch the upper leaflet of a leaf of the second row. Roman marble I-II century longest side: 27cm widest side 16 cm estimated original capital size: 50 x 50 cm provenance: former French collection dispersed at public auction condition: beautiful patina, persé on back (old mounting) can be reassembled as a plinth or simply posed beautiful rare fragment of this size .

Dealer

Ars Longa

Fine Art ? Antique & After the Antique

Mobile : 06 30 55 85 75

14 Rue Beauregard

Paris 75002