Description

Large Louis XV Rococo style silver 800 thousandths jardinière, Germany late XIXe centuryImportant German-made 800 thousandth silver jardinière dating from the late XIXe century, created in a sumptuous Louis XV Rococo style.The piece adopts a flowing form with asymmetrical contours entirely worked in repoussé and richly chased with powerful foliate scrolls, shells, fleurettes and rocaille motifs of great virtuosity.The openwork body features large gridded reserves with floral decoration, bringing lightness and refinement to the ensemble. The side grips, particularly spectacular, develop large foliate scrolls ending in stylized fantasy heads in the pure rococo spirit. The main facade is centered on an openwork mantel.The main front is centered by a large monogrammed cartouche
