Description

Fine 19th-Century French Charles X Solid Mahogany Centre Table
A distinguished early 19th-century French Charles X gueridon or center table, finely crafted in solid mahogany. The original circular figured mahogany top is framed by a moulded edge and a slim apron, showcasing beautifully grained timber with a deep, warm patina. The top is supported on an elegant carved splayed and reeded pedestal, set on a square moulded base. Four boldly carved scroll lion's paw (claw) feet provide a striking and sculptural foundation, combining refinement with a strong architectural presence. This piece exemplifies the quality and restraint of Charles X design: clean lines, superb timber selection, and carefully judged ornament. Both decorative and practical, it is an ideal center or hall table,
