Description

Monumental Art Deco ceramic by Roger Guérin. This piece, made in vitrified stoneware and featuring two double handles, is an authentic Art Deco studio ceramic vase by Roger Guérin. Made in Bouffioulx, Belgium, in the 1920s-1930s, this vessel is highly sought-after by collectors for its monumental dimensions, distinctive handle architecture and complex coloring achieved by salt glazing. Roger Guérin was an iconic figure in 20th-century Belgian ceramics. He perfected the traditional method of "grès salé grand feu". Pouring salt directly into the kiln at 1,300°C creates the characteristic shiny, orange-peel-like texture and changing colors. There is a rich gradation, from deep midnight browns to droplet crystallizations of mossy ochre, beige and slate blue. Signed and numbered (132K) on the
