- Art Nouveau period naturalist vase, square in shape, polychrome enameled in double-layered crystal, acid-etched by Baccarat. The vase is decorated with foliage, stems, buds, and wild poppy flowers on a light, frosted background.- The neck is powdered, and the decoration is enhanced with 24-karat gold, applied freehand with a brush.- Double-layered crystal is made of two layers of crystal, which, once acid-etched, creates a two-tone enameled decoration.- Unsigned, as it predates 1936, the year Baccarat began signing its creations with the crystalworks' acid-etched logo. This logo depicts a stemmed glass on the left, a decanter in the center, and a tumbler on the right, with the word "Baccarat" on the top of the decanter and "France" below it in a rounded shape.- The design of this vase is listed
