Description

"Tenture époque XVIIème Brocatelle Régence Lin Et Soie tapisserie" This Regency - Louis XIV period hanging, made in 17th-century brocatelle, is truly an exceptional piece. The combination of high-quality silk and linen in a large-scale floral motif, in burgundy and rust hues on a gold base, makes it a textile treasure worthy of the finest homes of yesteryear. The rich style reflects all the magnificence of the Louis XIV era, with its generous, refined design immediately capturing attention. The perfect condition of the piece is particularly remarkable for such an old textile, testifying to its careful preservation through the centuries. With its dimensions of 299 cm high and 121 cm wide, the hanging is ideal for ambitious decorative projects or for adding a touch of luxury to a collector's piece. The "Rose Couleur"
