Description

Pair of Gilded Roman Baroque Wooden Monstrances This pair of monstrances features a complex frame with volutes and rocaille motifs, adorned with shell-shaped and irregular stone decorations typical of the Baroque style. This decoration frames the central section and culminates in a pair of winged cherub heads, which lend the ensemble a solemn and celestial appearance. The gilding is in gold leaf and features a beautiful period patina, with some burnished and other matte sections that enhance its three-dimensionality. Rome, late 17th/early 18th century Italy
