

17th-century Painting: Madonna In A Garland Of Flowers, Rome

1 900 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oil painting

Width : 61 cm

Height : 76 cm

Description

A fine 17th-century oil painting on canvas depicting the Virgin Mary in prayer, framed by a rich and opulent floral garland. The work is attributed to the famous Roman workshop of Giovanni Stanchi (Rome, 1608-1675), one of the most important and active dynasties of "fioranti" in Baroque Rome. The complex and detailed botanical frame, rich in roses, carnations, and vividly colored tulips emerging from the dark background, is the work of the master florist, while the delicate and intimate bust of the Madonna is the work of a figurative painter from the same circle. The painting is in good overall condition, with a period patina that enhances its authenticity. The canvas is framed by a molded and gilded wooden frame from a later period (not contemporary), which elegantly encloses the

Dealer

Mercantedarte Antichità

Antiquités objets d'art italien

Mobile : 00 39 348 510 1428

via dei Coronari 136

Rome 00186

work, bringing the overall dimensions to 76 x 61
cm. A work of great devotional and decorative charm, ideal for collectors of still lifes and Roman Baroque painting. Condition as shown in photos. I'm also on Instagram
"mercantedarteroma"