Description

Artist: Turkmen
Heavily decorated chased copper antique tin-plated wedding dish. Twice signed and dated on the outer rim and below. see photos
Original to Turkestan, Central Asia, from the mid-19th century. Dated in Persian 1270 or 1854 of our calendar. A fine decoration, of a frieze of interlacing circles a sun or inscribed in the center a deer. A light frieze surrounds the whole itself surrounded by three cartouches decorated with friezes and intersected by three flowers. The dish is signed and features inscriptions in a cartouche in beautiful calligraphy. The patina is superb inside and out on this high rimmed tray. The object is in very good condition. #These objects can be found in major Islamic art museum collections worldwide.- Museo Nazionale del Bargello, Florence, Italy.-
