Description

Pair of Antique Art Nouveau centerpiece bowl is made from 800-grade German silver. It bears the official German national hallmarks of a crescent moon and crown, alongside the "800" decimal fineness mark indicating 80% silver content. The maker's mark, a letter "S" within a circular border, identifies the piece as the work of Storck & Sinsheimer of Hanau, Germany, dating between 1874 and 1930. The term "GESCHÜTZT" is also stamped on the base, denoting a legally protected design. The bowls features a boat-shaped, asymmetrical form with integrated openwork handles. The exterior surface is decorated with relief-molded and pierced organic motifs, including sinuous whiplash lines and stylized botanical elements characteristic of the Jugendstil (German Art
