Description

Important pair of silver-plated bronze two-light wall sconces, richly decorated in the Baroque and Louis XIV taste. Each sconce features spectacular openwork decoration consisting of a radiating sun mask in the upper part, framed by foliate scrolls and moving ornaments. The lower part features a female mascarón framed by two elegantly curved arms of light. The center is highlighted by a large domed medallion offering beautiful metallic reflections and reinforcing the decorative character of the whole. The domed reflective background accentuates the light and reinforces the spectacular character of the whole. Very fine craftsmanship, with rich ornamentation inspired by the decorative repertoire of the XVIIth century. A spectacular and highly decorative ensemble, ideal in a classical, Baroque or eclectic
