Description

A fine porcelain sculpture, delicately modeled and hand-painted with polychrome glazes, produced by the renowned German Meissen manufactory in the second half of the 20th century. The work draws on the historic and iconic 18th-century pastoral model created by master modeler Johann Joachim Kändler. The subject depicts the official composition "Shepherd with a Bird's Nest". The scene embodies a famous Rococo allegory: the nest with the little bird is a metaphor for courtship and winning the heart of the beloved, while the dog at the shepherd's feet symbolizes fidelity and steadfast love. The mark is on the underside of the base. Condition as shown in photos. I'm also on Instagram "mercantedarteroma"
