Description

Pair of Porcelain Candlesticks - Ferdinand IV Period, 18th Century, 1780-1790. Origin: Italy, Naples - Royal Porcelain Factory of Capodimonte (Reign of Ferdinand IV of Bourbon). Marks: Unmarked (a typical feature of this floral tableware production) Condition: Excellent condition, splendid preservation of the original polychrome and gilding. Description of the Work Rare pair of soft porcelain candlesticks, entirely hand-modeled and decorated in polychrome and pure gold. The design reflects the refined naturalistic taste of late 18th-century Neapolitan porcelain production: the shaft is shaped like a tree trunk wrapped in leaves shaded in tones of green and turquoise, enriched with pink and purple buds applied in relief. The upper finial and the star-shaped base are composed of stylized corollas and leaves, embellished with rich brush-applied gilding. Critical Note and Authenticity Although lacking a mark beneath the base--a common practice for everyday objects and furnishings from the Real Fabbrica Ferdinanda--attribution is guaranteed by the unmistakable quality of the soft paste, the typical color palette, and the masterful rendering of the botanical details. A high-period piece, intact and of great collector's interest.
