Description

A lovely, large vase in "jade" glass by Charles Schneider from the art-deco period. It's not for nothing that Schneider was nicknamed the color magician. A very luminous vase, with very shiny glass (called jade) and, above all, these beautiful colors, with this pink background on the upper part and sky-blue on the lower part. Note the elegance of the shape, with its piedouche and flat, tightened neck to enhance the overall effect. Beautiful size, 37 cm high, perfect condition, signed at the base (referenced model found in different forms, see last photos of a vase with the same color code), circa 1920. Superb, luminous, elegant art-deco vase.
