Description

Bust of Jesus Christ in patinated bronze, circa 1858, signed J. Clesinger, Rome 1858 & F. Barbedienne Fondeur This French bronze bust of Jesus Christ, made circa 1858, is a remarkable triumph of 19th-century sculpture. Signed by the renowned French artist Jean-Baptiste Clesinger and produced by Ferdinand Barbedienne's famous foundry, this bust embodies the blend of artistic mastery and technical innovation that marked the period. The bust depicts Christ in an astonishingly realistic way, with intricate details that testify to Clesinger's unrivalled ability to convey both the physical realism and spiritual depth of the figure. The fine patina of the bronze adds richness to the sculpture, while delicate golden highlights illuminate key elements, underlining Christ's serene expression and
