Description

Rare and exceptional large white porcelain vase with bright gold gilding, known as "de Mariage", this piece in very good condition, ornamental as you wish, has all the assets of an exceptional piece with its generous shape and beautiful material. Dating from the Louis Philippe period (1840), this pretty centerpiece has all the assets for a rich, refined decoration, playing supremely with light thanks to its size and its luminosity in a rich, bright, preserved gold. It is shaped like a corbeille or volute, with acanthus leaf rims, flowers in full bloom, stems with buds, an openwork argumented foot, and a fine gilded rinceaux motif adorning its center, in short, a piece like one rarely encounters, beautiful and well-preserved, of fine size and full-bodied decoration, avis aux amateurs de belles pièces.
