Description

Beautiful stucco and gilded wood mirror to hang over a mantelpiece or piece of furniture. The four sides are composed of a beautiful molding representing a frieze composed of finely decorated and chiseled drapery, and small flowers in the intervals. The four corners are each embellished with a rehaut composed of a shell, two acanthus leaves and florets. Our mirror is topped with an openwork pediment and composed of a central cartouche encircled by acanthus leaves and flowering stems. Beautifully crafted at the end of the Napoleon III period, this lovely mirror has retained a beautiful patina of old gold color. The mirror is original and in very good condition, with just three or four centimeters of barely visible oxidation. Note a few small stucco chips, the most important being at
