Description

Charming small painting on wood panel depicting an elegant young woman dressed in 18th century fashion, holding a red fan. The character, delicately treated in a gallant, theatrical spirit, evoking the world of Commedia dell'arte or the refined figures dear to the Romantic taste of the 19th century. Unsigned, probably produced at the end of the 19th century or beginning of the 20th century. The work, probably produced in the late 19th or early 20th century, in the taste of 18th-century precious scenes. Beautiful finesse in the treatment of the face, fabrics and pastel tones. The work is unsigned. The painting is presented in an important gilded wood and stucco frame richly carved in the Louis XV rocaille style, decorated with rinceaux, scrolls, foliage and shells.
