Description

Large Italian floral floor lamp published by Banci Firenze circa 1995. Exceptional wrought-iron work of art with vegetal decoration evoking an arum, composed of a slender structure in brown patinated wrought iron and a large tulip in blown Murano glass with white and ivory shaded decoration. This spectacular creation perfectly illustrates the revival of Italian organic style in the 1990s, blending Art Nouveau influences with high-end contemporary decorative design. The sinuous line of the shaft and the hot-forged leaves give the whole a great sculptural elegance. Model edited by Banci Firenze, an Italian house renowned for its prestigious lighting fixtures for interior designers and refined residences. Original "BANCI - Made in Italy" label preserved. Old invoice from Biarritz decorator Gazel dated 1995,
