Description

This "Mistletoe" service was created by Edmond Lachenal (1855 / 1948) and the manufacture K et G in Lunéville between 1900 and 1914. Following the initiative of the Parisian magazine "les Annales Politiques et Littéraires" this floral decoration, mistletoe branch in pastel tones (mauve, green, white), is made using stencils and a sprayer that projected the colors separately, each piece is therefore unique. A part of this service is preserved at the Musée d'Orsay: 1 round dish, diameter: 32,5 cm; 1 oval dish length: 38 cm x 24 cm. Good condition / art nouveau period.
