Description

Wedgwood - 1989 Christmas commemorative dish in blue jasperware Great collector's dish in jasperware from the English Wedgwood manufactory, founded in 1759 by Josiah Wedgwood. Made for the 1989 Christmas edition, this heavenly blue cookie porcelain dish features, in white relief, the Cathedral Wenchester under the inscription Wenchester Cathedral. The decoration is framed by motifs of winged angel heads and bells, with the words "Christmas 1989". This piece perfectly illustrates Wedgwood's iconic craftsmanship and the finesse of its famous jasperware. Features Manufacture: Wedgwood Model: Christmas Plate 1989 Decor: Wenchester Cathedral Material: Blue Jasperware and white relief decoration Origin: England Era: 20th century Presentation: In original
