Description

Large & beautiful painting from the 1950s-1960s depicting a luminous Camargue landscape with wild horses and bulls in the wild..The work is signed lower right by the painter Nicolai Barrera (1919-2006), whose theme of the Camargue was one of his favorite subjects: of Ukrainian origin , he studied at the Beaux-Arts de Leningrad (Saint-Petersburg) before settling in France after the Second World War ... remark: one of the attractions of the work proposed here is that it isundeniably one of the finest works by this artist , at least from those visible on the web / see in particularGoogle-images: it has been created with broad flat tints of colorwith bluish effects that are very well felt...it gives a deep senseof wild space and freedom, and objectively it's great art! Panel size (wood):73 cm x 54 cm Frame (as is): 92 cm
