

17th-century Wedding Chest From Emilia-tuscany

1 200 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Walnut

Description

A rare early 17th-century wedding chest made of walnut. The upper part and edges of the piece are adorned with finely carved details featuring a central boss, while the base features lion-paw feet. At the center of the chest, on the front, is the lock and its period key, with two iron handles on the sides. The richly carved basin-shaped corbice is very beautiful. The piece retains its original patina. The interior is lined with fabric, ready for use. Emilia-Tuscany, fully 17th-century style, valued for its size and authenticity. Dimensions: W 131 / D 49 / H 55. Completely authentic piece with no restorations or replacements. Authenticity certified.
