

18th-century Mexican Colonial Painting, Neo-hispanic Baroque School

1 450 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oil painting

Description

Important oil on canvas from the 18th-century Mexican colonial period, belonging to the rich tradition of the Neo-Hispanic Baroque school. The composition depicts St. Dominic on the left and St. Francis of Assisi on the right, together supporting a large globe, a symbol of evangelization and spiritual protection of the world. Above the saints appears a celestial vision showing Jesus Christ on the cross, accompanied by God the Father and the Virgin Mary emerging from luminous clouds. The composition reflects the dramatic spirituality, symbolism and theatricality characteristic of 18th-century Mexican Baroque religious painting. Executed with great fervor and iconographic richness, the work testifies to the aesthetic refinement of the Neo-Hispanic tradition, influenced by both

Dealer

Florin Antiques

Meubles et Objets d'art du XVIIIe et XIXeme

Tel : 0034 671 362 406

Mobile : 0034 671 362 406

PASEO RECOLETOS 31

Madrid 28004

Spanish Baroque models and local artistic interpretation. The painting has a remarkable decorative presence and considerable historical significance, making it an outstanding example of Latin American colonial sacred art. Origin: Mexico Era: 18th century School: Neo-Hispanic Baroque school Technique: Oil on canvas Dimensions: Height: 95 cm Width: 80 cm Condition: Good condition, showing traces of wear, craquelure and restorations in keeping with its age. The painting retains a beautiful period character and old patina.