Description

Rare Austro-Hungarian parasol handle, Art Nouveau, Belle Époque period, circa 1900. Elegant blond speckled tortoiseshell shaft, topped by a large cylindrical pommel in polished dark green jade. The finely worked silver mounting is adorned with cobalt-blue enamels decorated with stylized friezes and embellished with small emerald-green cabochons. Very fine late 19th-century goldsmith's work, of Austro-Hungarian origin from the Art Nouveau period. Presence of hallmarks on the silver mounting, hallmark 835, CAS master hallmark, see photo. The item is presented in its original antique case. Very fine showcase and collector's item. Very fine overall condition. Careful and secure shipping.
