Description

Large Capodimonte porcelain clock with rich romantic and pastoral decoration, adorned with groups of putti surrounding a flowering goat. This spectacular Louis XVI-style clock features a large white porcelain decoration enhanced by hand-applied polychrome flowers. The top is animated by several cherubs playing around a goat decorated with a garland of roses, in a gallant and mythological spirit typical of 20th-century Capodimonte productions. The circular enamelled dial is set in a gilded brass mount. The mechanical movement is visible at the back. The architectural base is embellished with garlands and bows in relief. Very beautiful decorative piece, ideal for a mantelpiece, a classical salon or a collection of Italian porcelain. Italian work in the Capodimonte taste,
