Description

Louis-Philippe walnut library, 19th century
Louis-Philippe bookcase in solid walnut e, opening with two glass doors. French work from the 19th century, featuring an elegant molded cornice and beautiful proportions. The top entablature reveals a superb flamed walnut grain, particularly decorative. The panelled sides and large-glazed doors emphasize the refined sobriety characteristic of Louis-Philippe furniture. The interior is fitted with several shelves offering ample storage capacity for books, objects or collections. The cabinet rests on a straight base with small cut-out legs. Very beautiful antique patina in warm tones. Sound and stable set, in very good overall condition. Dimensions: Height: 217 cm Width: 145.5 cm Depth: 42 cm Era: 19th century.
