Description

Elegant set of four sculptures representing the allegorical figures of the Four Seasons, carved from high-quality Italian white marble in the 1990s. Inspired by classical European statuary, each figure symbolizes a season through graceful posture and traditional iconographic attributes, reflecting the enduring influence of neoclassical art. Crafted with refined craftsmanship and harmonious proportions, the sculptures feature detailed drapery, expressive modeling and a luminous marble surface that enhances their timeless decorative charm. Their imposing size makes them ideal for formal gardens, entrance halls, terraces or sophisticated interiors. The purity of Italian marble, combined with the classical inspiration of the compositions, lends the ensemble a strong architectural and decorative
