Description

Pair of candlesticks. Gilt bronze. 19th century, after French models. Some flaws. Pair of ormolu candlesticks whose bases feature architectural and vegetal elements clearly influenced by the Rococo style. The stems are adorned with human figures inspired by classical mythological models, arranged in spirals reminiscent of Italian Baroque works (Bacchanalia). The branches feature plant motifs typical of pieces from the 19th-century French school. Each branch ends in a more or less flat surface decorated with plant elements, from which emerges a candlestick (some candle ornaments are missing), offering a total of six lights per candelabra. Weight approx: 14.4 kg. - Dimensions: 30 x 20 x 61 cm
